

What is Ariba?

Ariba, an SAP company, is the provider of a best-in-class and highly capable eProcurement solution.

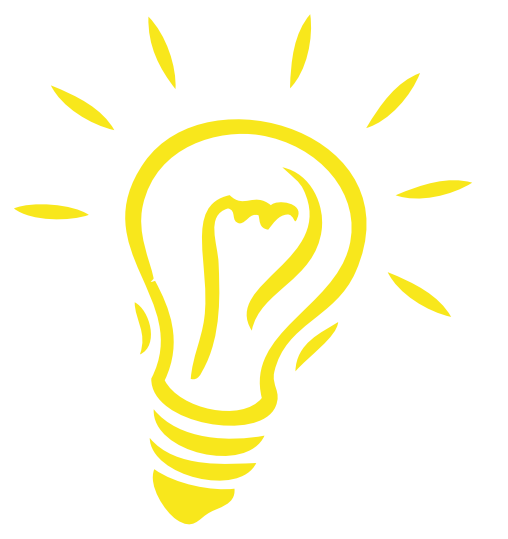

Light Account Capability

Ariba's light account capability allows Moog to bring all of its suppliers into the eProcurement solution at no cost to the supplier.

It allows for collaboration between Moog and its suppliers on all basic document types: orders, invoices, confirmations, invoice status notifications, and payment proposals.

What are the benefits of Ariba's Light Account for suppliers?

-  It is an efficient way to do business with Moog.
-  With instant onboarding and no fees, sign up is quick and simple.
-  Payment methods to you will remain the same, but will be faster and more efficient.
-  It's easy. It uses email and web browsers to send an unlimited number of documents between parties.
-  It provides support for most transaction types.
-  If you want advanced features, it's easy to upgrade.

How will transacting with Moog change?

Moog will continue to maintain strong relationships with its suppliers.

Purchase orders will be sent by Moog through Ariba.

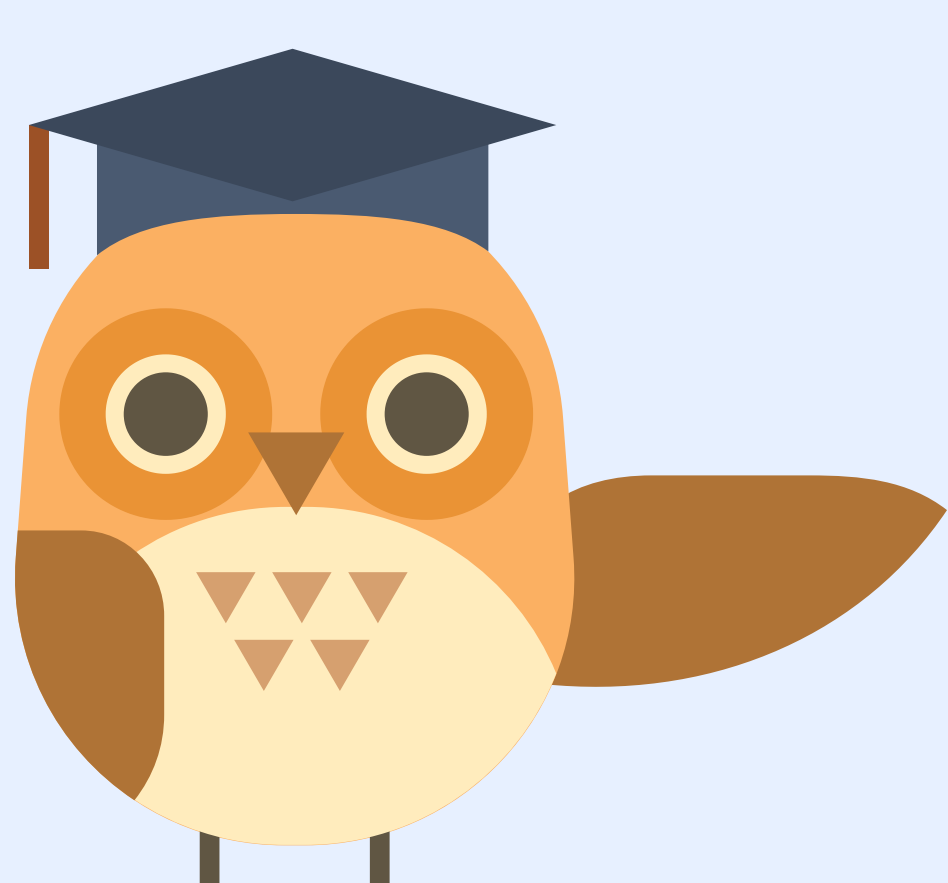

Invoices will be created in Ariba and sent back to Moog.

How do I sign up?

Moog will reach out to you to complete a Trade Relationship Request (TRR) form.

You will be asked to sign up upon receiving your first purchase order from Moog.

Multiple user accounts can be created within Ariba.

Where can I learn more?

Supplier Summits and optional training opportunities will be scheduled before the first purchase order is sent.
